

Printed from

MumbaiMirror

Things to do in Mumbai today

Mumbai Mirror | Mar 7, 2019, 12.00 AM IST

Unread Open Mic

Check out what can you do in Mumbai today.

PICK BETWEEN TWO DISCUSSIONS

A Conjuror's Archive and Art Historical Divides

The art discussion will be held between former director of the Crafts Museum, Delhi Dr Jyotindra Jain and art historian Dr Annapurna Garimella on artist Jangarh Singh Shyam's extensive work and the demarcations between folk and contemporary art. Dr Jain will present his research from his latest publication Jangarh Singh Shyam — A Conjuror's Archive, published by the Museum of Art and Photography, Bangalore. WHERE: CSMVS, Fort WHEN: 6 pm ENTRY: Free; through RSVP RSVP: asiasocietyindiacentre@asiasociety.org

Building Culture Stories

This talk will focus on the management aspects of the cultural field. Curator Anjani Khanna — (curatorial team, Indian Ceramics Triennale), Preeti Goel Sanghi (head of art, culture and heritage, JSW Foundation) and Ragini Singh Khushwaha (programme director, Drama School Mumbai) will speak about all the factors which affect the arts from fundraising, programme development to managing government policies. WHERE: Goethe-Institut/Max Mueller Bhavan, Kala Ghoda WHEN: 6.30 pm ENTRY: Visit the organiser's website LOG: www.art-x.co

Enjoy a gig

Don't want to wait till the weekend to party? Then, head to this show to enjoy an evening of great music. Sydney-based artist Plini, who is known for his unique brand of instrumental progressive rock, will be performing at this Lower Parel pub. Plini has worked with artistes such as Marco Minnemann, Chris Letchford, Tosin Abassi and Jordan Rudess. His last album Sunhead was launched in September 2018. WHERE: Todi Mill Social, Lower Parel WHEN: 8.30 pm ENTRY: Rs 1,416 LOG: www.insider.in

LOL with Anirban Dasgupta